BORDER STATE
DRIFT SHOWS
SMITH GAINSDEMOCRATS ARE MAKING FIERCE
FIGHT

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright 1928, by the Escanaba Press.)
In this dispatch David Lawrence sums up his observations of some of the middle western and border states recently visited and now turns his attention to New England and the eastern seaboard.)

New York, Oct. 16.—Looking over West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Illinois in the past few days, there appears no doubt that Governor Smith is gaining votes every day. The theory that his cause would weaken in late October has exploded. The republicans realize they have a real fight on their hands.

Notwithstanding the ground swell for Smith, there is no reason to take West Virginia or Illinois out of the sure-Hoover column. The drift in Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky, however, is unmistakably toward Smith.

It is significant that the New York governor, who is credited with uncanny intuition in politics, selected the past week for his visit to the three states mentioned and that he is turning from Missouri to Illinois. The battleground was supposed to have been entirely in the east, but the New York governor discovered that some of the states like Tennessee, Kentucky, and Missouri were so close that a personal tour was essential.

Crowds Demonstrative.
Just what is the value of a personal appearance? It might be supposed, for instance, that the radio and newspapers tell the voters every word the candidate has to say and with the radio, too, there is an impression of personality carried over the air to the receiving set. But the democratic nominee places his reliance on street parades and the manifest enthusiasm of the crowds. Mob psychology is a curious thing and in campaigns plays an important part. If a candidate gets a roaring reception the news spreads to word of mouth and tends to strengthen the support of partisans and sometimes wins the wavering voters too. Something in the way the brown derby is waved from the slowly moving automobile, something in the way the emotion of a street crowd reveals itself tends to impress the casual onlooker.

It must be remembered that in many states even the supporters of Gov. Smith have privately been asking: "Has he a chance—even an outside chance?" And when the crowds demonstrate as they did in every place visited by the New York governor on his present trip, they are stimulated to believe that the underlying strength of Smith is incalculably greater than appears on the surface.

Some of the Reasons.
There are several reasons why gains are being made by the Smith cause and any one who cares at all about any impartial appraisal of the progress of the campaign can not ignore them. They may be enumerated as follows:

1.—The democratic organization is spending funds for literature, radio broadcasting and advertising and is carrying on propaganda.

SMITH REACHES MIDWEST STATE

Democratic Candidate to Deliver Speech in Chicago

BY WALTER CHAMBLIN (Associated Press Staff Writer) Smith Special Train Enroute to Chicago, Oct. 17—(P)—Swinging eastward after what he described as a "satisfactory" drive through the border states, Alfred E. Smith arrived tonight on Illinois soil to give added impetus to a determined Democratic bid for the third largest vote in the electoral college.

For two full days and a part of a third the Democratic nominee will stay in Chicago for conferences with party chieftains in the state which with 29 electoral votes is exceeded only by New York and Pennsylvania as a political prize.

Normally Illinois is a Republican stronghold. Four years ago it registered 1,453,321 votes for Coolidge to 576,975 for Davis and the combined vote of Davis and LaFollette fell 444,319 votes short of that received by the Republican candidate. Nevertheless, the Democrats are anxious to change if possible, its political status.

On Formal Speech The governor's schedule today included stops at Alton, Springfield and Joliet on the way to the Lake Michigan city where he was due at 9:55 p. m. upon his arrival, the program called for his immediate departure from the special train for the Congress hotel, which will be his headquarters until his departure for Albany, N. Y., Saturday morning.

His only formal speech in the state will be given Friday night at the 131st National Guard Armory from which a radio hook-up again will carry his voice over the nation. He has not disclosed the subject for that address.

While this speech is expected to be the last the presidential nominee will deliver in midwest territory during the campaign, the Democrats are known to have under consideration a plan to bring Senator Joe Robinson, the party's vice presidential nominee, into this section during the week preceding the election.

Sure of States A tentative itinerary for the senator includes speeches in southern Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and possibly West Virginia and it is probable that his two private cars will be run as a special train during the closing days to enable him to cover a wide territory.

On his way to Chicago, the governor at a press conference in the club car of his train was asked his views concerning his swing through the northern tier of southern states, and the border states of Kentucky and Missouri.

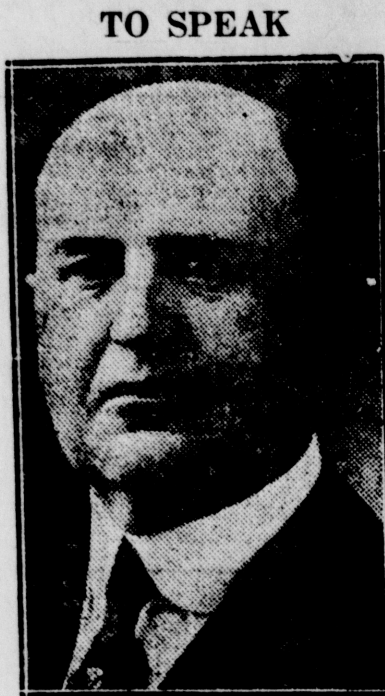

"I think they are all right," he said, and to another question as to whether he thought he would carry the states he had been through he replied: "Yes, I am satisfied of it. I am entirely satisfied that they are all right."

The nominee also was asked if he thought his rival for the presidency, Herbert Hoover, in his address at Boston, had intended his remarks on the tariff to apply to the governor's tariff speech at Louisville.

"Of course, the only thing you can say about it," the candidate answered, "is that the speech (Hoover's) was apparently written long before I made my Louisville speech."

After further questioning, the governor added that if Mr. Hoover had been referring to his address he "does not understand it". The nominee also was asked what he thought Mr. Hoover had been talking about.

Moses Misunderstood? "I do not know," was the answer. "He seems to think, or must have thought, that I was going to say I believed the fixation of schedules ought to be taken from the congress and lodged with the tariff commission; but no such thing was said. No such position was taken by me. I dis-tingly said that the tariff commission was to provide the information and the basis for scientific tariff making.

"Senator Moses said 'If Gov. Smith's program can possibly be adopted, it would mean the turning over of the constitutional power of congress to a tariff commission.'"

"Nothing could be further from the truth than that. Moses does not understand it. I took no other position than that taken by Taft 20 years ago, and by Wilson 12 years ago."

The governor added that Senator Moses was "obviously 100 per cent off the track" and that the Democratic party took two positions on the tariff. First, he said that there would be no general revision of the tariff.

Revision by Congress "This means there is to be no bill introduced in congress generally revising the whole tariff," he continued, "so that all the special and favored interests can come and log-roll and trade and scratch backs to get what they want."

"Second, specific changes must be made in specific schedules only after thorough investigation and fact-finding by a body properly equipped to get the facts."

The governor was asked if the revision would be done by congress.

"Why, of course," he declared. "There is no suggestion that it will be anything else."

The Democratic candidate said he had no comment on Attorney Gen. Sargent's decision on the Salt Creek lease, but indicated he might have something to say about it later.

her body on a bed, with the throat cut and the head crushed. A carving knife and an electric flat iron, both blood-stained, were on the bed near the body. These, and the head of a small hammer found on the floor, were held as clues.

Known at the apartment house as Mrs. Alta Welch and as Mrs. Leo Gordon, she was actually, police say, the wife of Anthony Bonello, who was arrested here two months ago and taken to Kansas City as a suspect in the robbery of the Home Trust company there during the Republican national convention. In their flight, the robbers shot and killed a policeman on traffic duty.

Bonello is being held in Kansas City for trial. Any theories of suicide were set aside this afternoon when an autopsy disclosed that Mrs. Bonello's death was caused probably by blows on the head with the flatiron or the hammer.

"He seems to think, or must have thought, that I was going to say I believed the fixation of schedules ought to be taken from the congress and lodged with the tariff commission; but no such thing was said. HIGH OFFICER HERE TONIGHT

Martin H. Carmody, Supreme Knight of K. C. Order Is Guest

Martin H. Carmody, Grand Rapids, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, who is touring the upper peninsula with his wife, will be the distinguished guest of the Escanaba and Manistique councils at a joint meeting to be held at the K. C. club rooms here tonight.

The supreme knight and his wife will arrive here from St. Ignace late this afternoon. A bridge luncheon will be held in their honor at the Peterson Tea Rooms starting at 7 o'clock, attended by Escanaba council officers and their ladies and also a special reception committee of the Daughters of Isabella.

The joint meeting of the Manistique and Escanaba councils will open at 8 o'clock. Supreme Knight Carmody will address the members on important matters concerning the order, following which a lunch will be served.

Members of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the reception are: George E. Harvey, J. J. Bartella and James E. Frenn. The special committee of the Daughters of Isabella is headed by Mrs. T. J. Curran.

PREPARES FOR N. Y. SPEECH

deney. He will conclude the campaign in a radio speech the night before the election, but the address that he will make on his cross country swing is one from which his advisers are expecting much.

St. Louis is being regarded seriously as a site for the delivery of this final effort to capture the farm belt vote, although strong claims have been advanced in behalf of Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis.

A report brought to the Republican national committee today from Missouri said that the extremely heavy registration in Republican areas of that state, especially among women voters, was giving leaders renewed hope that the Hoover-Curtis ticket would garner the state's electoral vote.

William G. Holt, of Kansas City, said that the increased registration and the predominant dry sentiment in rural districts might be sufficiently strong to offset Democratic gains in the west section of St. Louis.

ALWAYS CITIZEN.

Washington, Oct. 17—(P)—The state department in a formal statement today said that it had investigated the antecedents of Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee and had found that he has always been an American citizen.

The department explained that it had searched its lists of registrations in London from 1908 to 1918 and found that Herbert Hoover had registered as an American citizen in 1908 in London and that a number of passports had been issued during that period to Mr. Hoover and that he had retained his residence in the United States during all that time.

Paying passengers from Germany to this country gave $3,000 each for their tickets, and on the return journey the fare will probably be as much or more. On the midwest flight also, passengers will be carried and will pay for the ride.

It was said today that the rate of fare for the western trip and the return flight to Germany have not been announced as yet, but might be announced tomorrow. It was indicated that the only guide there will be in setting the fare will be a decision as to the traveler will bear.

ROUTE UNKNOWN

Detroit, Oct. 17—(P)—Whether the German Graf Zeppelin, transatlantic dirigible, will fly over any other Michigan cities on its visit to Detroit next week was not learned here today.

Fritz Haller, German consular agent in Detroit, said he had received no official information as to the route of the tour or as to plans for the reception of the crew of the dirigible in Detroit. Then tentative schedule as announced in New York, however, indicates that the airship will fly to Chicago from Detroit. In that event, it is believed here that it will follow a route over several southern Michigan cities.

fleet of Menominee and Marinette also made preparations for a hurried departure this morning if the high winds abate. Several commercial tugs in the Menominee-Marquette harbor intend to assist in the search.

The Upper Peninsula Airways, Inc., of this city will dispatch several planes today if a request is made by members of the searching parties. An aerial search would be of little avail under atmospheric conditions prevailing over that territory late yesterday and no break in the weather is expected today. Nevertheless, Chief Pilot Walter Arntzen of the local field said his company would be ready to co-operate in any way possible.

A faint ray of hope lies in the theory that the plane may have made a forced landing on Green Island, located six miles off the Menominee shore. The island, not shown on the map, is only a speck on the water, and contains only a small piece of smooth ground, suitable for a landing field. Heavy woods would make the takeoff or landing difficult.

Odd Fellows of State Will Come to City Next Year

Escanaba was awarded the 1929 convention of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges of Michigan at the business session of the orders' convention at Saginaw yesterday morning.

News of Escanaba's selection as the next meeting place was received by Harold P. Hindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, from Chris H. Gribble, Hermansville, grand master of the I. O. O. F. of the state. Mr. Gribble was largely instrumental in winning the convention for this city, his efforts overcoming the strong bid made by Detroit and Battle Creek.

"Pleased to report grand lodge accepted Escanaba's invitation. Congratulations." This was the text of Grand Master Gribble's telegram received here.

Mr. Gribble is the fourth upper peninsula man to serve as grand master of the state I. O. O. F. lodge, his election last year coming as a reward for the many years of active work devoted to the betterment of the order. The fact that convention also is attributed to the high standing and respect he holds among the various lodges.

Albert Verbunker and Andrew C. Nygaard, delegates from the local Impallant Lodge No. 460 of the I. O. O. F., also worked hard at the convention to land the meet. They

Odd Fellows of State Will Come to City Next Year

Escanaba was awarded the 1929 convention of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges of Michigan at the business session of the orders' convention at Saginaw yesterday morning.

News of Escanaba's selection as the next meeting place was received by Harold P. Hindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, from Chris H. Gribble, Hermansville, grand master of the I. O. O. F. of the state. Mr. Gribble was largely instrumental in winning the convention for this city, his efforts overcoming the strong bid made by Detroit and Battle Creek.

"Pleased to report grand lodge accepted Escanaba's invitation. Congratulations." This was the text of Grand Master Gribble's telegram received here.

Mr. Gribble is the fourth upper peninsula man to serve as grand master of the state I. O. O. F. lodge, his election last year coming as a reward for the many years of active work devoted to the betterment of the order. The fact that convention also is attributed to the high standing and respect he holds among the various lodges.

Albert Verbunker and Andrew C. Nygaard, delegates from the local Impallant Lodge No. 460 of the I. O. O. F., also worked hard at the convention to land the meet. They Bowling Banquet.

The officers of the Hermansville Bowling League entertained 90 bowlers at a banquet held in the dining rooms of the Community Club, Monday evening, October 15. Members from Hermansville, Norway, Daggett, Nadeau, Carney, Wilson and Powers attended the program and banquet. Rev. Arthur Gentz of Powers was the toastmaster for the evening.

Gene Compte of Marinette entertained the bowlers with a number of tricks and stories which were enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Albert Laabs, Mrs. Justin Stecker and Mrs. E. E. Allen prepared a most delightful chicken dinner. After the banquet the balance of the evening was taken up in several bowling matches between members of the various teams in the Hermansville league.

Personal Items.

Gene Compte of Marinette was a business caller in Hermansville Monday.

Lloyd Maves has left for an extended visit with relatives in Quebec, Canada.

Carl Schwartz returned to Blaney Park after spending the past week visiting with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Panzram and daughter Vernetta, accompanied by Tyne Korpe, motored to Green Bay Sunday.

Mrs. G. W. Earle left Monday evening for an extended visit to Battle Creek. She was accompanied by her son, Stewart E. Earle.

G. H. Earle was a business caller at Blaney Park Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dani, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bonneau, motored to Green Bay Sunday.

OBITUARY

BENNETT BABY.

Lois Mae Bennett, one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Bennett, 311 South Sixteenth street, died at the family home at 5 o'clock yesterday after an illness of three weeks due to pneumonia.

She is survived by her parents and two brothers and two sisters: Roy Kenneth, 8; Iona, Edith, 6; and Ronald Howard, 4 years.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home to be prepared for burial. No funeral arrangements have been made.

MRS. NELL BRYDGES.

Mrs. Nell Brydges, widow of the late John Brydges, of Morrisburg, Ont., died yesterday after an illness of two weeks following a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Brydges was a former resident of this city, residing here until seventeen years ago, when she removed with her daughter to the Canadian city. She was well known in this community.

She is survived by a son, Charles of Rhineland, and a daughter, Mrs. Edson Salmon of Morrisburg. Two brothers and three sisters also survive. They are Allen Tyrell of Brampton and Stanley Tyrell of this city, Mrs. Jean Loux of Morrisburg, Mrs. Rose Scott and Mrs. Abbie Robinson of Los Angeles.

Bean Beetle Has Been Driven Out of Two Counties

East Lansing, Mich., (AP)—The first invasion of the Mexican bean beetle in Michigan has been repulsed with no danger to the crop of this state, the report of Neil Howard, of the U. S. department of agriculture, shows. The beetle was found in only two counties this year—Ingham and Branch.

Federal and state specialists last year found the pest in three localities. Only a few of the insects were seen in either year in the area in which they were located and no commercial damage was done.

Slow spread of the beetle in a few northern states is reported by Howard. Its progress, however, is not sufficiently rapid to constitute a serious menace at this time, he says. Michigan bean growers, particularly, are advised to keep their poise.

A COUNTY AIRPORT.

DELTA COUNTY supervisors who supported the resolution authorizing the appointment of an airport committee, have made it perfectly plain that their idea is not to enter into competition with Upper Peninsula Airways, Inc., in any way. On the other hand, they want, energetically to cooperate in the development of the present, airport facilities.

Aviation is growing by leaps and bounds throughout the country. As long as the present field is large enough to care for the community's needs, and the facilities it offers are sufficient, there is no intention on the part of the county to establish a field here. On the other hand, if the time ever comes when larger field, publicly owned, is necessary, the county wants to be in a position to supply it.

At the present time—and probably for a long time to come—Upper Peninsula Airways, Inc., will be adequate and the county will do nothing to retard the development of that enterprise. The board's airport action this week was merely a matter of preparedness.

A receiver has been asked for the Ku Klux Klan. The difficulty will be to find a suitable person to receive it.

KILLING THE GOOSE.

TOURISTS. In 1,250,000 automobiles spent approximately a half-billion dollars in Michigan according to estimates of Carroll F. Sweet, president of the Michigan Tourist Trade association.

Fair and courteous treatment, good food and good hotels at reasonable prices, and exploitation of spots of scenic and historic interest are among the factors which will bring about these return visits.

Hotels and garages which deliberately over-charge tourists for their services, and other persons and establishments which refuse to be guided by the rules of ordinary hospitality, are enemies of this great crop of tourist money.

Those who have the best interests of Michigan at heart will see that such enemies are permitted to do as little damage as possible.

The hardest part of a dirigible's transatlantic trip is landing, says Lady Grace Drummond-Hay. But not landing would be even harder.

THE TAX ON BOXING TICKETS

OFFICERS of the National Boxing Federation, an association whose members are the boxing commissioners of 26 states in which boxing is under state supervision, believe that the new federal revenue law placing a 25 per cent tax on all boxing admissions of $5 and over, will have a wholesome effect on the sport.

We are glad to see the association taking that view of the matter. The tendency undoubtedly will be to keep the price of tickets below $5 where the tax is only ten percent. This will mean the passing, no doubt, of million-dollar purses, and multiple-million dollar gates, but it will give the average fan an opportunity to see more of the sport nearer home.

When one realizes that tickets for a whole season of college football games, or for an entire world's baseball series can be purchased for less than has been charged for a ring-side seat at one heavy-weight boxing contest, the absurdity of the situation is apparent. The next sane step, we think, would be to require all boxers to take their compensation from a percentage of the "gate," without a guarantee. If they weren't able to draw the money through the turnstiles, they are overpaid.

This principle, by the way, can profitably be applied to any professional sport.

And now a marathon dance at Houghton has flopped after one night. Has the spot where the promoter was last seen been marked with an "X"?

ANOTHER MARATHON FLOP.

YOU MAY ADD Houghton to the list of cities where attempts to stage marathon dance contests have "flopped." Houghton, however, showed remarkably good judgment. The lack of interest there was apparent from the outset. After the first night of the contest failed to attract more than a few dozen spectators, the affair, billed as a great prize-awarding event, was called off.

It was a foregone conclusion that Houghton offered no more fertile field for the promoters than Escanaba, Green Bay, Sheboygan and a score of other cities in this territory. In fact, Houghton had been warned by the experience of other towns.

The contest was bound to "flop" anyway and the end of the first night was a pretty good time for its deflation.

Great reform movements are wrecked, sometimes, by the backfiring of exaggerated ambitions. For instance, the carrot rust fly would have been the most popular insect in America if it had not also attempted to rust the celery crop.

THE LAZY BEE.

DR. LLOYD R. WATSON, pursuing research work at Cornell University, has made a discovery that is harrowing to all of us who were brought up on the good old-fashioned adages and maxims.

He announces that the supposedly busy bee should never be a synonym for conscientious toil. The average bee works hard for a little while, he says, and then knocks off for the day and—to put it bluntly—loafs. He is now trying to find some way of making the bee busier and reducing idleness in the hive.

"Busy as a bee" has long been a byword. It will go hard with us if we have to face the fact that the bee is, in reality, little better than a bum. If Dr. Watson isn't able to improve matters we shall have to think up a new maxim.

The old timer who blamed the influence of "dime novels" for his downfall, and who charged "wild" movies with the downfall of his son, now has a grandson who says his misdeeds were caused by "too much education."

"This isn't an election—it's a grudge fight," declares a Washington observer. Heck! We've never seen a grudge fight yet that was worth the money.

A Philadelphia man paid $150,000 for the original manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland." Now if he can only find a publisher who is willing to print it, he may have a book that will attain considerable popularity and circulation.

"It costs the nation $60,000,000 to elect a president," declares a magazine article. Sometimes we think it isn't worth more than $59,000,000.

Who's Who and Timely Views

ENFORCEMENT OF DRY LAW CALLED FOR.

By WILLIAM T. MANNING
Bishop of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

There are some people who seem to hold the view—I get letters expressing that view, and many of them—and it seems to be reflected in much of our press, that any utterance against prohibition is honest and courageous while any utterance in support of it is either ignorant or hypocritical. Imputations of that sort are of course absurd. Opposition to this law is no infallible badge of honesty.

Those who support it may be quite as honest as those who oppose it, and I cannot see that it required any great degree of courage to denounce the prohibition law in the city of New York.

I did not myself vote for the prohibition law, and for some time doubted its advisability very strongly, but I have been brought to my own observation and inquiry to believe that it is bringing much benefit to our people as a whole, and will bring more in course of time. Eight years is an exceedingly short period for such an undertaking as this.

Some great and serious evils have resulted from this law, but

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON.

REAL DEMOCRACY

One learns that John Coolidge, working at an ordinary job in a railroad office in New Haven, arrives on time and devotes his attention to work. This is not strange. He has been well brought up in a good American family. In such a situation is the real force and value—the real thrill—of American democracy. No coddling of kings and princes here. The son of the head of the republic is like the son of any other citizen. Some day he, too, may become president. It will be by his own efforts—not because he is the son of his father. We may sometimes be a little impatient with our republic, but it is the system of living together which gives humanity its best chance.

MANLESS INDUSTRY

A New York power company has installed mechanism that will operate an electric distributing plant without a human being within its walls. The new station will supply enough power to light the homes of 300,000 families. This is just another long step toward the supremacy of machinery in business. Labor saving devices provide the leisure that makes culture and the arts possible.

All of us face a greater problem in the right use of spare time than even science faces in turning over the world by machinery.

DISARMING

American, France, Great Britain, all the nations of the earth, regard each other with a certain suspicion when they come to talk about cutting armies and navies and eliminating guns. Each nation agrees in theory that fierce competition in building bigger and better battleships ought to cease, but the competition goes on. Suspicion alone does not provide the answer. The world moves on to better things by sacrifice. There is yet little spirit of sacrifice in the decisions of nations. There is, indeed, but little of the spirit of sacrifice and true devotion to humanity's interests in the decisions of individuals. Until the spirit of sacrifice enters into the hearts of men and nations, competition and suspicion will remain in action.

It is trusted the London humorist who once asked, "What is Babe Ruth's last name and how old is she?" is sufficiently answered.—Detroit News.

Lone Star Bride

Miss Helen Paxton, of Abilene, Tex., sister of Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of the Texas governor, is the first "Texas White House" bride in many years. She has been married to Weaver Moore, a Houston attorney, in the executive mansion at Austin.

Who's Who and Timely Views

these evils are often exaggerated by those who oppose the law; and most of these evils are due not to the law itself, but to failure to observe and enforce it. Most of those who oppose and disobey the law admit that it would be a benefit to our country if it were properly observed. What is now needed is not abandonment of the undertaking when we have only just begun it, but more earnest effort for enforcement of the law and more thorough and impartial investigation of the fact relating to it.

The assertions that this law cannot be enforced come, most of them, from those who do not wish the law to be enforced, who never have wanted it enforced and who admit that they hope to see it repealed on the ground that it cannot be enforced. As to the possibility of enforcement, I agree with the statement made by Mr. Thomas A. Edison that it can be enforced reasonably well if proper effort is made and that it is already better enforced than some of our other laws, for example, the law against narcotics and the law against holdups.

I think Mr. Edison also gave tersely and truly the answer to the contention that this law should be repealed because it is an encroachment upon personal liberty. He said, as reported: "What is civilization, anyway, but a restraint on personal liberty? If liberty were to run wild we would have no advancement. Civilization becomes better only as we curb liberty in the interest of the general welfare."

CHAPTER LIII

Lynda went directly to the old full-length mirror that stood at the end of the hall. What she saw there was a revelation. It was only a little over a month since she had gone to work at Armitage & Son's, but in that month she had changed so much that he wondered that her friends did not speak to her.

The girl in the mirror was more beautiful, at that, but was she happier? She was not sure. Oddly enough, her first thought was to tell David all about it. She knew now what he would say, and she determined to sell her house for five thousand dollars.

She glanced at the clock, which was just beginning to strike. It was three o'clock. She could probably find Mr. Anson, her father's lawyer, still in his office. She would tell him to make the sale for her, and—well, she would not think any further.

"This is he talking," was what she heard when she asked for Mr. Anson.

"It is very strange that I have been thinking about you all day, and intended to come over and see you when I went home tonight. Where are you talking from?"

Lynda told him that she was home, and he asked her to stay there for a little while, until he could come over and see her. She hung up the receiver with no little trepidation. She wondered what Mr. Anson had to talk with her about. She wished she had told him she would bring the deed, and called him up again to tell him so, but was told that he already left the office.

In a very short time Lynda opened the door to Mr. Anson, who seemed a little embarrassed upon seeing her. "Lynda, what have you been doing to yourself? The last time I saw you, you were a little girl looking out on the world with questioning eyes, and now—now," he finished lamely, "you have grown up."

"What did you want to see me about, Mr. Anson?" said Lynda, interrupting his implied compliments.

"Today two men came to my office to ask me about a deed to this property."

"I have it, Mr. Anson," Lynda said, her eyes widening with expectation and interest.

"My dear child, the night before your father went away he came to my office and told me that he intended making over this house and lot to you; that he would come in the next day and bring the deed, and I could make it over to you, legally—but never came. Instead, someone called me up and said that a man who said his name was John Fenton had been found near the railroad station with a drunken jag. He had asked the man who was talking to call me up and say that he had been robbed of a hundred dollar check and the deed to his house. He wanted to see me immediately. I hurried down to the place where the man said he could be found, but everyone had gone. I never saw him again. I thought the deed and check were lost."

"Of course, you can eventually prove your ownership by inheritance to this place, but first we will have to prove the death of both your parents, and that will take a long time. There are a number of interests looking toward the property, but they cannot oust you from it, neither can you sell it until your legal right is proved."

Lynda had not heard much of all this, for pounding against her consciousness was the fact that her father had found that hundred-dollar check when he was hunting a place to put the deed, and probably had cashed it. David had stood the loss rather than hurt her. "Good old David," she said to herself. "There is no one like him."

"I don't think it will hurt to hang onto this property for a while," Mr. Anson was saying.

"They tell me you have a splendid job at Armitage & Son, so I infer that you do not need the money."

"Have you heard from your father since he went away, my dear?"

Lynda then told him about the twenty dollars.

"It is clear to me, Lynda," Mr. Anson said, "that your father came back to your house a week or two after I got the call, and he found that check. I would say it was on the second night. He saw that you were asleep, and as you did not wake while he was there, he saw how easy it was for someone else to come in, and that is the reason why he was so insistent upon your renting the place and living somewhere else."

"Do you suppose that Dad got that check cashed, Mr. Anson? If he did, he would have to write my name upon it. If he did, it would seem as though David would have told me about it."

"My dear, that is the last thing that David Kenmore would have done. I have known David even longer than I have known you, and I know that whatever he might think of your father, he never would hurt you by telling you that he had proof that he forged your name."

"How dreadful! Sometimes Mr. Anson, the thing which I think that I have wanted—that I miss more than anything else in the world—are a real mother and a real father. I envy all those girls whom I know have them, and I never can hate anyone who has been like me—always alone in the world."

Mr. Anson swore under his breath when he thought of John Fenton, who could treat this girl in the way he had.

"I'll try and find David right away," Lynda said, as she wiped away her tears.

Secretly, she was very glad that she had a good excuse to bring him back to her, and as soon as Mr. Anson went she dressed to go out, determined to go over to David's house to ask him to forgive her for distrusting him.

She thought: "I'll tell him I have just found out that my father cashed that check. It was wonderful for him to say nothing about it. He must have known about it all this time."

WHAT'S THIS, ANOTHER BIRTHDAY?

What's this, another birthday? Well, one would never know; Forgive me for forgetting, if by chance I ever do; Because another birthday doesn't seem to change you so; You always seem to be the same dear girl I always knew; There's something sweet about you that the years can never touch— Oh, I suppose, by looking I would find a lock of gray, Might even find a wrinkle, though I doubt it very much— But what's another birthday? Why, it's just another day.

What's this, another birthday? Well, one would never guess, You look the way you always have since—well I don't know when.

Folks never will believe you, however you confess You've had another birthday, another one again. Your smile is just as lovely as it ever looked before, Your eyes as full of splendor, your voice as good to hear, Your lamp is in the window and your welcome at the door, So what's another birthday? Just another happy year!

What's this, another birthday? Well, one need never mind If all the other birthdays have left the heart as true, Have left the hand as gentle, have left the soul as kind, Have given one the beauty that years have given you, We both shall have our birthdays, we both are getting on, We're both a little older, but it doesn't bother me, For what's another birthday? It is just another dawn That brings another promise of another year to be!

FEELS "LIKE ANOTHER WOMAN" AFTER BIG WEIGHT REDUCTION.

Lost: One Hundred and Six Pounds. No Reward for Return.

"My dear Dr. Peters: You will be interested to know that by following your rules for a year (August, 1927, to August, 1928), I have lost 106 pounds. I have found no difficulty in keeping my weight normal since that time—more than a year now. It is needless to say that I feel like another woman and life is altogether better for me in every way. MRS. M."

Ooee! What a whooping reduction. Thank you ever so much for letting us know of it, Mrs. M. You certainly deserve a lot of credit.

I thought at first it was the highest loss we have had reported to us, but my secretary reminds me we have two reports of losses in the 130's.

I would like very much to know some details: Does over-weight "run" in your family; how much you weighed and your height; whether you followed the foundation diet pretty closely; whether you increased your exercise; any special thing you found helpful; etc., etc.

It will be interesting and comforting to those of our followers who are overweight to know that such an excess weight can be reduced, and still more comforting to know that it can stay reduced. It must be that your food tastes have entirely changed. Have they not?

The instructions on reducing which Mrs. M. followed are contained in a pamphlet which can be obtained by following column rules.

Is It Dangerous to Live Near Tuberculous Patients? "Will you please advise if it is dangerous to live within 25 feet of a case of advanced tuberculosis."

neighbor of ours. A. No, you are in no danger, even though you lived with a patient. A. This is what Webb and Ryder, in their book, Recovery Record, have to say:

"... We do not feel that if the rules as regards cough, expectoration and cleanliness are scrupulously followed, a healthy adult incurs less risk in living with a tuberculous patient than in riding down town in an automobile. This, however, does not apply to children."

Tuberculosis is due to the germ of tuberculosis planted on tissues that are non-resistant. The parasite of the sower has been used to express the relationship between infection from tuberculosis and the human body.

Parable of the Sower. Some seeds fell by the wayside and the birds came and devoured them. (The germs do not get into the body but are killed by the sun and sterilization.)

Some seeds fell upon stony places. (The tissues are very resistant and the germs are destroyed.)

Others fell upon thorns and the thorns grew up and choked them. (The germs fell and grew, but the protective forces of the body walled them off and protected the system.)

But others fell on good ground, and yielded fruit, some a hundred-fold. (The germs fell where there was lowered resistance from some cause—most frequently from malnourishment—and Nature could not overcome them.)

He that hath ears, let him hear.

Infectious germs, contrary to the opinion of many laymen, do not have wings or legs. They do not fly or jump at you, but are transferred directly by person to person through coughing, sneezing or kissing, or indirectly through foods or other articles which have been contaminated with them.

Bovine tuberculosis comes from milk from infected cows. The tuberculin test and the pasteurization of milk is doing away with it.

We have a list of books on the subject written by authorities for the layman.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

Seek Work For Rural Irish

Statistics showing the decline of population in County Tyrone in Ireland, have caused the starting of a movement to establish small industries there to provide work for the people in order to hold them from emigrating. Dullness of country life, lack of education and poor crops are blamed for the restlessness, and the government is being asked to start the industries to keep the people busy and contented.

15 TAKE SOCIAL AIR COURSE

In a flying boat having accommodations for 15 passengers, Sir Eric Geddes, chairman of a prominent railway organization of England, recently gave a social pleasure cruise from Southampton to the West Coast of Scotland. Among his guests were Sir Auckland Geddes and the host's three sons. The cruise covered 1,000 miles of flying, and was without fixed schedule. Aerial visits were made on Lord Incheape at Glenapp Castle, Ballantrae, and Irvine Geddes at Loch Striven. The party also visited famous Loch Lomond, where a landing was made.

AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON

Increase in Pay for State Legislators Asked

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 15.—(A)—The often-defeated proposal to give members of the legislature more than the $400 a year they now receive will be placed in the hands of the people again on Nov. 6.

The 1927 legislature, certain that attempts to enact a pay increase through the subterfuge of an "expense allowance" and without submitting it to a referendum would not survive a gubernatorial veto, initiated a proposed amendment to the constitution. If adopted, legislatures will be compensated at the rate of $3 a day, or around $2,200 for the two-year term.

While there have been signs thus far of a vigorous campaign for the pay boost, most members and many state officials favor the amendment. Governor Fred W. Green believes members of the legislature are underpaid. At present they get the entire $800 due them for the two years during the biennial legislative session. The only other financial allowances are mileage for the round trip to Lansing for the session and a maximum of $100 in case a special session is called.

Can't Break Even
Regular sessions in recent years have lasted more than four months. Thus the members, even collecting their entire two year's pay during that period, collect less than $200 a month—and with living costs in the capitol's hotels what they are these days, it takes a thrifty legislator to break even.

The proposed pay increase is one of the three amendments which will be submitted in the November election. The second would prohibit cities or township being broken up into legislative districts. The only exception would be when a county line intervenes. Then a city could make separate districts of the portions of each county.

Vote By Instinct?
There is some objection to this amendment, by members, and some support. Those who are against it cite the case of Detroit districts, where on occasions literally hundreds of candidates are in the primary field and the voters must sort out the legal number of nominees. Names, they say, bear much importance in such an election. Many voters know none of the candidates—they vote almost entirely by instinct or choice of names, objectors to the plan contend. They prefer districts for each member so that the voters who nominate and elect will know their candidates. The arguments on the other side are that representatives from a city should represent the city at large rather than a particular section, and that general elections would tend to solidify the delegation.

The third proposed amendment to be voted upon in November is

St. Francis Hospital

Andrew Iverson of Newhall, former sheriff of Delta county, submitted to an operation for strangulated hernia and is as well as can be expected. No visitors are allowed for a few days.

Stephen Murphy, Jr., submitted to an operation for relief from appendicitis and is resting easily.

Mrs. Frank Wilson who is a surgical patient is resting easily.

Mrs. Frank Eitner of McFarland is reported as slightly improved.

Lorraine Trepanier who is a surgical patient is doing nicely.

Mrs. Alex Billings of Gladstone was admitted as a medical patient.

Douglas Schaffer of Nahma was admitted yesterday for treatment.

Louis Pinal, 403 South Eighteenth street, employed by the Delta road commission, sustained injuries to his knee Tuesday afternoon while at work. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of the injuries. He was resting easily late yesterday.

Wells Man Hurt When Logs Fall on Him at Mill

Emil Finner, of Wells, suffered a fracture of the skull while unloading logs from a car at the L. Stephenson company's sawmill about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He is in a critical condition at St. Francis hospital.

Finner had removed two of the three stakes holding back a pile of huge logs on a flat car, and in taking off the third stake he remained in front of the car, according to witnesses. When the last remaining stake was chopped away, the logs hurtled down and knocked him into the mill pond.

Employees pulled him out of the water and he was taken to the hospital, where an operation was performed promptly.

to allow excess condemnation for public works.

Altogether the legislature initiated four proposed amendments to the constitution. The fourth, to permit the formation of metropolitan districts, was adopted in the 1927 spring election.

PUPILS MAKE AUTO REPAIRS

Practical Work Done by Auto Mechanics Class at E. H. S.

Theory squares with practice in the auto mechanics department of the Escanaba high school where 24 boys are learning the rudiments of automotive engineering.

The department is in charge of L. J. Shaw and is conducted in two sections of 12 students each. Ninety minutes are devoted to the subject each day and a full credit is given on the successful completion of the course.

The primary purpose of the course is to fit young motorists to make the ordinary repairs that can be made in the home garage with limited facilities and to tend to breakdowns that may occur on the road. Although the course is not intended to produce full fledged automobile mechanics, some of the graduates with several months added experience in public garages have secured good paying positions.

Rebuild School Truck

The theory study is furnished by the use of a standard textbook, "The Gasoline Automobile" by Hobbs, Elliott and Consover, while the practical side is given by work on automobiles of students and teachers in the school shop. At the present time, the class is completing the work of overhauling an old Reo truck purchased a few weeks ago by the board of education for use in delivery service between the various school buildings. The truck probably will be used in the winter time also for transporting students living on the old state road at the outskirts of the city. A sturdy top for the truck was made by the woodworking class.

New parts were placed in the truck, valves ground, connecting rods tightened and other general repairs made. Yesterday, some of the students were repainting the body in the familiar orange and black colors of the high school.

Study All Phases
The various phases of automotive engineering studied are as follows: automobile engines, fuels and carburetor systems, lubrication and cooling systems, battery ignition, storage batteries, starting and lighting systems, chassis and running gear, clutches and transmissions, rear axles and differentials, wheels, rims and tires, operation of automobiles and care of automobile troubles.

Rood and Dubord in County Monday

Winter club work will get under way in Delta county on Monday when Clare Rood, U. P. boys' and girls' club leader, and Miss Emma Dubord, assistant, will visit various schools in the county.

Arrangements have been made already for meetings at the Rock, Beaver and Perkins schools, and other meetings will be announced later. Sewing, handicraft and hot lunch clubs are to be organized, it was announced.

Firestone TIRES AND TUBES LEAD!

Firestone, the originator of the Balloon tire, has successfully maintained and increased its prestige as the most popular and widely used tire in the territory serviced by the Escanaba Warehouse. If this tire was not basically correct and vastly superior—the tremendous efforts made to unthrust Firestone's position would have made some impression other than a tendency to further increase Firestone popularity. Firestone and Oldfield tires and tubes for all rim sizes—high pressure or balloon—Buy them for the ultimate in tire satisfaction.

Firestone Truck Tires Lead!

It is only natural that sturdy, long-lived Firestone Bus and Truck Pneumatics and Solids should be the first and lasting choice of Escanaba and Delta county operators of commercial vehicles. That their choice is one of wisdom is corroborated by America's largest operators of Bus and Truck lines. Years of careful checking and testing has proven to the captains of large Bus and Truck interests that Firestones give much more service per dollar invested. Why not have the best?

Firestone Service Leads!

Even the very best of tires occasionally need attention. This is another department in which Firestone has reached a stage of perfection—All Firestone warehouses and sales agencies are equipped with factory organized methods and are operated by factory trained mechanics. In this way the same practices that are employed in the construction of Firestone tires are re-employed in building back mileage to a worn or blown-out casing. Whenever you need tire service investigate the Escanaba Motor Co.'s guaranteed service.

Health for 15 Years.

"It's been 15 years since I've felt as good as I do since taking Dreco and I am so grateful to this excellent preparation that I am happy to praise it to others who may be run down," says Mrs. Adline St. Peter, 613 North 10th Street, this city, a mill man in the employ of the Northwestern Co.

"Although I have only just started on the treatment my complexion is clear and glowing and I feel energetic and happy instead of depressed. The constipation which was chronic with me has been greatly relieved and I seldom suffer now from the spots before my eyes or the dizzy spells which used to overcome me."

"My stomach troubles and the pains in my back and limbs have also been overcome to a large extent and I am sure that by the time I finish the full course of Dreco I will be entirely well."

The Dreco Man is now at Drug Dept., Fair Store where he is daily explaining the merits of Dreco to numerous local people and presenting everyone who is interested with a valuable health booklet free.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Marriage License: Norbert R. Valind, Escanaba, and Miss Helen Jane Knight, Gladstone, have applied at the county clerk's office for a marriage license.

Autos Collide: A. A. Frei, Marquette, received a painful cut on the head when the sedan which he was driving collided with a coupe, operated by C. Pray, 605 Stephenson avenue, Tuesday night. The accident occurred near the Steele-Wallace plant on Stephenson avenue. The left door, fenders and running board of the Pray automobile were badly damaged.

Hallowe'en Social: A Hallowe'en Social will be held in the parlors of the Swedish Methodist church, corner 13th street and 1st avenue south, tomorrow evening, Friday, beginning at eight o'clock. Everybody is invited.

Council Meeting: The Escanaba city council will hold its regular meeting at the council chambers at the city hall tonight, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Rummage Sale: The rummage sale now being conducted in the basement of the First Presbyterian church, corner Ninth street and First avenue south, will continue today and Friday. Many new and useful articles are being collected every day and the women in charge hope to have real bargains for their patrons.

Fried Chicken Supper: The women of the First M. E. church are to serve a fried chicken supper at the church parlors Wednesday, October 24, beginning at 5 o'clock. There are two small dining rooms in connection with the main dining room at the church and reservations may be made for a party for these two rooms. The reservations must be made before Monday, preceding the supper, by calling Mrs. Dan Dewey, phone 1619, or Mrs. J. S. Lindsay, phone 219-W. Parties can be planned for five, six or seven o'clock. An excellent menu is being planned and it is expected many will attend the harvest supper, as the proceeds are for a worthy cause.

Pythian Sisters Hallowe'en Party: Members of the Pythian Sisters lodge will celebrate the thirty-second anniversary of the order Friday evening in an entertaining manner. A short business session will be held at 7:30 o'clock at the K. of P. hall and a social session will follow at 8:30, when card playing will be featured and awards given to holders of high scores. No charge will be made for the card playing, but a small fee will be charged for the grab box and fish pond. It is expected that every member will attend this meeting.

Joint Hallowe'en Dance: Knights of Columbus and Daughters of Isabella, of Escanaba, will hold their second annual joint Hallowe'en party at the Coliseum on October 29. An elaborate program is being prepared for the occasion.

Johns Transferred: Ray Johns, for the last four years upper peninsula secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has resigned to become associate state secretary of the state organization with headquarters in Detroit. He will supervise the town and country work in the state. Clifton M. Drury, who recently became assistant upper peninsula secretary, will become the upper peninsula secretary in direct charge of all the activities in this district.

Harvest Festival: A Harvest Festival will be given by the Woman's Missionary society of Bethany Lutheran church at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. A program will be given and refreshments will be served by Mrs. C. A. Lund and Mrs. V. F. Anderson. A cordial invitation is extended to all and a large attendance is desired.

Plan Teachers Meet: Supt. R. E. Cheney and H. P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, went to Iron Mountain yesterday to gather information which will be used in making plans for the next U. P. teachers convention to be held in Escanaba in 1923.

Rebekah Card Party: The Phoebe Rebekah lodge will give a card party tonight at the I. O. O. F. hall. Five hundred will be played. The public is invited.

READER GIVES FINE PROGRAM FOR CLUB DAY

"Go to your dictionaries and look up these words: bigotry, tolerance and politics—then go to the polls and vote Nov. 6," was the final admonition given to members of the Manistique Women's club Tuesday at the close of an address by the president, Mrs. Charles Hovey.

Tuesday was "teachers' day" on the club program, and the president chose a topic on "the unusual child," pointing out that children who are "different" should not be forced to follow set rules and schedules of study and conduct in school, but that the schools should be made to fit the child, rather than the child forced to fit the school. She urged that more thought and attention be given to the training of the young minds who appear to be developing on unusual channels.

A large attendance marked the meeting honoring Manistique teachers, and there was an excellent program. Two vocal solos, "Lassie O' Mine," and "I Pass By Your Window," were presented by Herbert K. Peterson, with Mrs. A. F. Hall as accompanist.

A feature of the afternoon was the appearance of Mrs. G. A. Buchman of Iron Mountain, dramatic reader, who gave extracts from "If I Were King" by Justin McCarthy. Mrs. Buchman, who was introduced by Mrs. Gordon Hughes of the program committee, proved a versatile entertainer, and her dramatic impersonations were acclaimed as perfect by the club members.

Reports of committees were received, including that of the membership group, which reported Mrs. Lee Stewart and Mrs. C. C. Currie as new additions to the club membership.

The Woman's society of the Presbyterian church will hold a bake sale Saturday at one o'clock at Weber's and Vaughan's store. A variety of bake goods will be on display.

Manistique Boy is Making Good in Vaudeville

Two letters received recently by James Moon from Robert Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, 4th street, Manistique, give details of the young man's activity as a professional in vaudeville.

In June of this year, Mr. Rogers went to New York to take a course in acrobatics and bar work, and was given a try out by one of the instructors of the Balto school, who was so enthused over the Manistique man's work that he gave him a place in the professional class. Rogers took only four lessons, returning ten days later with a contract to join the "Merrill Troupe" of acrobats and bar performers, with whom he opened in Jeffersonville, Ind., in July.

Since then he played a Cairo, Savannah, Ga., Maryland, Ky., Cincinnati, O., Savannah, Tenn., and many other towns through the south, closing the fair season at Donaldson, Ia., this week. He will then return to Manistique for a few weeks vacation with his parents before going into winter vaudeville, opening in Chicago Nov. 15.

Committees Ready for Child Clinic Here October 24

With all preliminary arrangements completed, the Manistique crippled childrens clinic is ready to open at 8 a. m. on Wednesday, Oct. 24. Latest records give a total registration of 43 children scheduled for examinations.

Dr. Stiefel of Detroit, noted orthopedic surgeon, will be in charge, and all doctors in the city will be present at least a part of their time. Nurses have been assigned as follows: Miss Margaret McCauley and Mrs. Leonard Males—patient history; Mrs. George Nicholson and Mrs. G. A. Shaw—equipment. Mrs. W. Thomson will assist the examining surgeon. W. B. Thomas will assist in moving patients.

The directing committee includes: Mrs. W. S. Crowe and Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook—reception committee—Mrs. A. R. Tucker and Mrs. W. F. Kefauver; entertainment—Mrs. F. E. Lied and Mrs. A. F. Hall; luncheon—Mrs. G. H. Brusie; Mrs. P. R. Baldwin and Mrs. V. I. Hixson. George Brusie is in charge of transportation, and all children, no matter where they live, will be taken to and from the clinic free of charge.

Mrs. Chris Fibernitz left Tuesday for Iron Mountain where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Charles Watson.

Don't be Constipated

The real source of sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, nausea, indigestion, bad breath—even pimples or sallow complexion—is often traced to Constipation. Why let this trouble gain headway when so pleasant a way to end it is available? For seventy years Carter's Little Liver Pills have been used by millions of people. Easy to take, thorough and safe, for adults and child alike. Over $200,000 used last year. Ask your druggist today for these tiny little, pure-white, sugar-coated pills. You'll recognize the old, familiar red-wrapped container which holds 40 pills—25 cents everywhere.

ALL ON EDGE AT MANISTIQUE FOR SATURDAY

Plunging into preparation for the biggest football event of the season, Manistique high school students have found that they can hardly wait for the event here Saturday afternoon which brings together Manistique and Newberry high school squads in a final show-down tilt.

Pep meetings are breaking out daily in the high school, and committees have been named to take the lead in plans for decorations, parade, dance, and other activities of the day.

The parade will be at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, and every class in the school will enter a float. A cash prize will go to the winner, and there will be a medal for the individual wearing the most green and white. The dance will be at the gymnasium from 4:30 to 6:00. Rooters are banking strongly on making the hop a celebration of another victory, and they are banking on the team to turn the tide against the celery eaters. All in all, it will be the biggest day of the season for Manistique high, and what a bedlam will break loose when the A. nal whistle blows Manistique in the lead!

The Chard brothers of Iron Mountain, Lawrence and Richard, will act as officials for the game, the former referee and the latter as umpire. The officials will have no excuse for missing line plays, for the school is building a fence around the field at the county fairgrounds, and the crowd will be kept 15 yards back from the white stripes.

Marshal of the Day—Pete Gorsche.

Goal Post Decoration Committee, Freshmen—Beryl Jones, Myrtle Carlson, Edith Bowman, Boyd Boltho, Dan Katzenstein, Bruce McKilligan.

Aged Thompson Resident to be Buried at 2 P. M.

Funeral rites will be held at Thompson today for Mrs. Johanne Edwardson, 73, whose death occurred Tuesday at the home of her brother, Ole Thompson. Services today will be at 2 p. m. in the Swedish Lutheran church at Thompson, with the Rev. V. E. Holmstedt of Manistique officiating.

Mrs. Edwardson is survived by a son, Ole Edwardson, 36, of Thompson; a nephew, John Olson, niece Hannah Olson; and a brother, Ole Olson. She was born in Norway, and lived in Thompson for 18 years.

Plan Pin Season Friday Evening

Those interested in any way in bowling plans for the coming season are invited to attend the meeting called for Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Bault bowling alleys.

Schedules, teams, league formations, handicaps, and other matters pertaining to alley activities will be discussed, and definite arrangements will be made for group competitions during the ensuing season.

Golden Star Has Masquerade Night

Members and friends of the Manistique Golden Star Lodge are invited to attend the masquerade party which will follow the regular meeting Friday night, Oct. 19.

The gathering will be at the Odd Fellows hall, and a good time is assured. Lunch will be served as one of the evening's entertainment.

Miss Gladys Currie is ill at her home, 500 Range street.

DOMINICAN SISTERS PRAISE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

"FOR COLDS AND BODY BUILDING IT DOES A WORLD OF GOOD," THEY WRITE

The Dominican Sisters of St. Dominic Monastery, La Crosse, Wisconsin have found that for treating and preventing colds and building up the aged and sickly, Father John's Medicine is so effective that they have used it daily for many years.

Following is part of a letter from the Mother Priores:—"We have found out that there is nothing better than Father John's Medicine for colds, or building up the body. It always helps our weak or delicate sisters, and those who have colds soon recover and grow stronger. We cannot praise Father John's Medicine too highly. We cheerfully recommend it for colds and as a body builder and hope that all who use it may obtain the same wonderful results as we do: it does a world of good."

Father John's Medicine is absolutely free from alcohol and dangerous drugs. For 73 years it has won similar tributes of praise as the safe family medicine for colds and body building.

CITY BRIEFS

Miss Dorothy Schutter arrived Monday evening from Sault Ste. Marie and will visit relatives for a few days.

Mrs. E. A. Thiemman underwent a serious operation at St. Mary's hospital Milwaukee last week. Mrs. Thiemman is a sister of Mrs. W. J. Raredon of this city who is a frequent visitor at Manistique and has a host of friends here. Mrs. Thiemman's condition is favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Doyle and daughter Camille motored to Escanaba on business today.

Elmer Anderson of Minneapolis is a guest of Miss Helen Hargreaves at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hargreaves, 127 Arbutus avenue.

Claimed by Death at Grand Rapids

A message received in Manistique told of the death of Mrs. John Giesberg, resident of this city, who passed away at Grand Rapids Monday evening, after suffering for some time with a brain tumor.

Mrs. Giesberg is survived by husband and her father, Peter Christensen, 210 Schoolcraft avenue.

The body was to be brought to Manistique for burial.

CITY BRIEFS

Harvey Grolean returned Wednesday from Enderlin, S. D., where he spent the past two weeks with relatives and friends.

Mrs. William Ford, Mrs. Fred Goddard, Mrs. H. Tyler and Miss Ethel Peterson of Iron River spent Tuesday here with Miss Blanche Curtis. They were enroute from Columbia City, Ind.

An object that will find general support is that back of the benefit dance planned for October 27, the proceeds of which will be used to buy a radio for the Gladstone fire hall.

The dance will be held at Wasa hall and will be sponsored by the entire department whose members feel that the regular firemen on duty throughout the day and night, deserve the recreation a radio will afford them.

Further announcement concerning the dance will be made later.

FLOORING MILL TEAM TAKES THREE GAMES

The Soo line lost to the Flooring Mill Tuesday evening, at the Rialto alleys, the mill team taking all three games.

The railroaders were somewhat handicapped, however, because of the fact that they had two blinds. The entire team is expected to be out next week, however.

Rothchild of the Flooring Mill starred in the game Tuesday night, capturing the high single and high three game series score.

The scores were:

Eagles Will Hold Meeting Friday Night

A regular meeting of Aerie No. 1617, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Friday evening at the Eagles' hall at the usual meeting hour.

The meeting is one of special importance and it is urged that every member be present. Plans will be made for a membership drive which will end in a big meeting on November 2, at which William Pitt Light, prominent organization speaker, will be present.

Further plans for the drive and for the meeting November 2, will be announced at a later date.

Record of Births At City Hall

The following births have been recorded at the Gladstone city office:

A daughter, Laverne Enola, born October 12 to Mr. and Mrs. Verne Ward.

LeRoy William, a son, born October 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Elisha J. MacKnight.

A son, Joseph Francis, born October 8, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Royer.

David, a son, born October 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ludwig Olson.

A daughter, Mae Meroy, born October 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. LaFramboise.

F. R. A. NAMES NEW OFFICERS AT MEETING

Members of the Fraternal Reserve association heard talks by visiting officers, discussed plans for future activities and elected officers at an important meeting held Tuesday evening at Wasa hall.

The business session held during the first part of the evening, was followed by ocal time and a lunch.

Officers named for the year are:

Mrs. J. A. Stewart—President.
Mrs. R. Beauchamp—Vice president.

Mrs. Nels Granberg—Secretary.
Mrs. L. Cassels—Treasurer.
Mrs. William Girard—Sergeant.

Charles Berry—Doorkeeper.
Mrs. J. Bovin—Messenger.

Plans for the new home which will be built for the aged and orphans, neither in Wisconsin or in the upper peninsula, were discussed, Mr. E. Beard of Oshkosh, visiting officer, speaking on this subject.

Supreme Junior Matron Viola Curvall of Menominee here in connection with juvenile work and Mr. Curvall, state manager, also spoke.

Meetings during the coming months, it was announced, will be held twice monthly.

ROTARY TAKES NEW MEMBERS

Governor Brownell Unable to Be Present; Program Instead

Bernard Micks was made a member of the Gladstone Rotary club at the regular meeting following Wednesday noon's luncheon.

The program, attendant upon the reception of a new member, took the place of the talk which District Governor Dan Brownell was scheduled to give. Mr. Brownell being unable to be present because of illness in his family.

Dr. A. H. Miller, president of the club, presented the Rotary pin to Mr. Micks.

Robert J. Riley gave a talk of welcome to the new member in which he outlined some of the fundamental ideals embraced by membership, stressing the value of understanding in business which comes from close contact and association, particularly that obtained at the Rotary luncheons.

I. N. Bushong gave a brief inspirational talk on Rotary which was a fitting climax to the session.

Members of the Escanaba Rotary club who had planned to be here to greet Governor Brownell, were notified of his inability to be present, and were not in attendance at the meeting.

TO ENTERTAIN SOCIETY ON TUESDAY NIGHT

The Young Woman's Foreign Missionary society, Alice Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, will have its October meeting in the church parlors Tuesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, with the members of the Woman's Missionary society of the church, their guests at the meeting.

Plans are being made for a mystery box contest in connection with the meeting.

Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick, Mrs. John F. Richardson, and Mrs. H. Cassidy have charge of the program.

Mrs. C. Tordeur, Mrs. Pearl Cowan, Mrs. Robert Wilbee and Mrs. C. W. Witchurch will have charge of refreshments.

EAGLES WILL HOLD MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

A regular meeting of Aerie No. 1617, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held Friday evening at the Eagles' hall at the usual meeting hour.

The meeting is one of special importance and it is urged that every member be present. Plans will be made for a membership drive which will end in a big meeting on November 2, at which William Pitt Light, prominent organization speaker, will be present.

MARQUETTE HERE ON SATURDAY

Coach Kell's Gladstone squad is putting in one of the most rigorous weeks of practice since the opening of the season, in preparation for its meeting with the fast Marquette crew Saturday.

The game which will be played on the Gladstone athletic field here will attract one of the biggest crowds of the year.

Coach Rushton's Marquette eleven is rated one of the best teams in the peninsula this year and the Keilmens are expecting the hardest game of the year. The Marquette team has lost only once so far, to the Escanaba Puckmen, winning from Ishpeming, Sault Ste. Marie and playing to a scoreless tie with Negaunee.

The Marquette team has practically the same lineup as that of last year and the old timers who played last year and defeated Marquette only in the final minutes of play know what to expect when the game begins Saturday.

The Gladstone high school lineup is intact so far with the exception of Sutter who injured his knee last Saturday and who will probably be unable to play. Officials of the game will be announced later.

OPEN BRANCH BAKERY IN GLADSTONE

Announcement of the opening of a Gladstone branch of the Thompson Bakery, Escanaba, with Richard Heric, formerly of this city, manager, was made Wednesday.

The new bakery will be located at 910 Delta avenue and will be opened the latter part of this week or the first of next. Thompson's goods will be handled exclusively with fresh deliveries each day.

New York, Oct. 17.—(P)—The stock market, having advanced rather steadily for a week or more, ran into heavy profit taking today, but major speculative operations were again on the up-side. Speculators advanced the 5 to nearly 20 points took place in a few specialties and net gains of 1 to 4 points in a long list of standard rails and industrials were offset by a sizeable group of net declines, several of which ran from 2 to 5 points.

Some of the day's selling was inspired by fears of another large increase in Broker's Loans in the federal reserve statement to be published after the close tomorrow. A few of the large commission houses also sent out bearish market investors and speculators of "loans" after the session. "Short" selling also was a factor, but it appeared to be rather cautious in character.

Credit Improves
The credit situation showed some improvement. Call money renewed unchanged at 7 1/2 per cent. And then dropped to 7, but loans in the "outside market" were freely available at 6 1/2 per cent. During the afternoon, time money and commercial paper rates held steady with the demand relatively light.

International Nickel was the spectacular individual feature, soaring 18 points to a new high record at 166 1/2; as against a low of 73 5/8 earlier in the year, on buying influenced by reports of a 6 for 1 stock split-up, and rumors of important developments in the company's Canadian mines. The rise in this issue was accelerated by active short covering.

With more than a score of the large industrial companies already having provided for stock split-up, and several more expected to do so, the market again played an important part in the day's proceedings. Dupont ran up 11 points to a new high at 41 1/2 and General Motors touched a new to 221 1/2, and then slipped back to 219 1/2, up 3 1/2 net.

New High Ground
Wall Street hears that General Motors directors will declare a stock dividend of 25 per cent and split up the stock on a 2 for 1 basis at the next meeting. One of the chief advantages of this plan is to obtain wider distribution of the stock.

Other high priced issues to move into new high ground included Case Threshing, Victor Talking Machine, Jewel Tea, National Bellas Hess, Johns Manville, American Express, Otis Elevator, and Montgomery-Ward. The run-up of 13 1/2 points in Murray corporation to a new high record at 118 was based on unconfirmed reports of a new Ford contract. The brisk demand for Nash Motors was accompanied by rumors of buying for the account of the Fiat Brothers.

Among the law and medium priced grounds to break into new high ground for the year were Alaska Juneau, Kennecott Copper, Household Products, American La France, Bush Terminal, Grand Union Stores, City Stores B. National Cash Register and Marlin Rockwell.

Oil again changed hands in enormous volume although some of the recent leaders fell back moderately on profit-taking. Superior was one of the most active features, touching a new top at 9 3/4. Other issues to maintain new high were Barnsdall "A" and "B", White Eagle and Warner Quinlan. Wall Street was still in the dark regarding the outcome of recent conferences to bring about a world curtailment of production, but bullish enthusiasm was created by the influence in Wooster Crude and the falling of in domestic production last week.

Exchange Quiet
Motor Products, which broke 15 points yesterday, fell back another 15 points today to 180 and then snapped back to 193 3/4. The decline in Certainteed Products to a new 1928 low at 133 revived fears for the safety of the dividend. Curtiss and Wright Airplanes, Hudson Motors, International Harvester, International Silver, The Kelly-Springfield Issues and Union Carbide also were conspicuously heavy.

Trading in the foreign exchanges was quiet. Sterling cables held fairly steady around $4.85-1.32, or just above the commonly accepted "gold import" point.

A further rise of about $2 a bale in cotton prices, based on unfavorable weather reports, attracted the most interest in the commodity markets. Wheat futures declined fractionally and coffee quotations sagged 12 to 15 points. Sugar prices held steady.

WOMAN BREAKS SWIMMING MARK

Record Falls as Mrs. Schoemmel Stays in Water 72 Hours

New York, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemmel today clattered out of the hotel swimming pool which had been her bed and boarding place continually for three days and nights. She brought out with her a new world's endurance swimming record of 72 hours, two minutes and 40 seconds.

Restoring supremacy in this strange form of athletic activity to the so-called weaker sex, the new mark displaced the former standard set by Jimmy Cherry, an ex-sailor, in Los Angeles on Sunday night.

Although she had announced a whimsical desire to stay up as long as the Graf Zeppelin did in coming from Germany, Mrs. Schoemmel decided as the third day drew to a close to confine her efforts this time to beating Cherry's record by a goodly margin.

Hard to Keep Awake
As the shouts of spectators announced arrival at the 72-hour goal, Mrs. Schoemmel's broad features relaxed into a grin and she stroked slowly to the shallow end of the pool. A dozen swimmers plunged in to assist her, but she needed no aid and climbed out alone. She appeared little the worse for her long immersion and a doctor found her normal. Her weight was announced as 132, a loss of 20 pounds. Her limbs beneath their heavy coat of white grease appeared slightly blue and swollen, but there was no physical faintness outside of an obvious desire to sit down as quickly as possible.

"Well I did it," said Mrs. Schoemmel to her manager as she touched terra firma at forty seconds after 12:47 o'clock for the first time since 12:45 Sunday afternoon.

The hardest part of the long test, she found, was just before dawn this morning when she had to keep awake. Her manager and others helped her to stifle her yawns.

BORDER STATE DRIFT SHOWS SMITH GAINS

inct canvasses in ways similar to those of the republican organization of other campaigns—the novelty being that the democrats have the money this time to offset republican activity.

2.—Big increases in registration are being recorded and while there is no immediate way of telling how much has been gained by either side, there is no doubt of the large number of men and women who have never been in the habit of voting, but who are registering in neighborhoods known to be democratic in sentiment.

3.—Negroes who have migrated in the past decade from the south and have been an important factor in swelling the Harding and Coolidge votes of 1920 and 1924 are in revolt. The negro vote hitherto has been more than 90 per cent republican. There are signs this year that the democrats will gain as much as 40 per cent of the negro vote in some sections of the country. The Ku Klux Klan which is very active in this campaign, may be said to be primarily responsible for the revolt.

City vs. Country?
In examining the situation in the middle western states it is evident that Herbert Hoover commands the support of the business elements in the cities almost everywhere, which, however, are numerically small, and that in the farm regions he is still encountering Lowden sentiment, which was originally developed from anti-Coolidge and farm relief agitation. But in the country districts the religious issue is so vital and is taking away so many votes from the democrats that one can not be sure of placing Kentucky, Tennessee or Missouri in the Smith column even though the surface impression is that way at the moment.

Is the country vote going to the polls or will many democrats stay away as a protest? Will the silent vote of the rural districts sweep aside the big majorities that Smith will get in the cities? That is the unknown quantity and the organization leaders on both sides make varying estimates as to its probable size.

All that can be recorded at this time is that the Smith cause is gaining because the Smith strength in the cities is being intensified but only the "silent" vote of the country districts will tell whether the cities will furnish enough margin for the democratic nominee to assure him Missouri, Tennessee or Kentucky. They are all doubtful but with a Smith leaning.

HAYS-TILDEN FIGHT SHOWED PLAN FAILURE

it. This effectively ended the Grant third consecutive term boom.

Field Against Blaine.
The support of the administration then went to Roscoe Conkling and Oliver P. Morton. Blaine was the anti-administration candidate. When the convention met he had more votes than any other two candidates, and it became a case of the field against him. Although an investigation into some of his financial transactions was then being made, he nevertheless was the favorite up to the seventh ballot when the convention swung to Rutherford B. Hayes, who was a dark horse up to the fifth ballot. Even then Blaine was but little behind Hayes, who had the nomination on the seventh ballot with only six votes to spare.

The Republicans broke the unit rule in the convention. Four Pennsylvania delegates wanted to vote their own sentiments and the chair sustained them. Its decision was appealed from, but sustained. Four years later an attempt was made to enforce it again, but it failed and ever since the Republicans have refused to recognize this rule. The Democrats held their convention in St. Louis, to which the Tilden supporters went with a majority conceded to them. Tilden was nominated, with his leading opponent, Thomas A. Hendricks, as his running mate. Hayes was a colorless candidate and no one foresaw anything but a smooth finish to the campaign. The night the returns came in every one conceded the election to Tilden, and but for a chance inquiry it might have gone that way. But this inquiry, coming from the Democratic headquarters to a Republican newspaper, indicated doubt, and Chairman Chandler of the Republican National Committee promptly capitalized that doubt with orders to his aides to claim everything. And they did.

Dangerous Situation Develops.
Tilden received the greatest popular majority ever received by a defeated presidential candidate, having more than a quarter of a million more votes than Hayes. But by claiming the votes of several southern states, South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida, the Republican candidate could count 185 electoral votes to 184 for the Democratic candidate. The Democrats insisted that the votes belonged to them, and with a Democratic House and a Republican Senate there was no possibility of either accepting the view of the other. The outlook for the settlement of the controversy was dark. There was danger of civil war.

The electoral commission idea was the outgrowth of the grand committee that had been advocated by many since the days of the framing of the Constitution. It was advocated by members of both parties. There were a few on both sides who opposed it, but as there seemed to be no other way out of the difficulty, both Houses agreed to the measure creating the commission. Morrill said that if either House had thought the fifteenth member would not be non-partisan, the measure could not have passed. Senator Ingalls said afterward that the commission was a device favored by each party in the belief that it would cheat the other, and which resulted in defrauding both.

Briefly, the commission was to be made up of three Democrats from the House, two from the Senate, and two from the Supreme Court, with three Republicans from the House, two from the Senate, and two from the Supreme Court. The four Justices of the Supreme Court were to choose the fifteenth member. The Democrats thought it would be David Davis when they allowed the bill to pass, and the Republicans thought it would be Joseph Philo Bradley. And Bradley it was.

Hays Elected.
When the testimony was heard Justice Bradley voted on every question of fact and of law in entire harmony with the seven Republican members of the commission. Whether it was the Oregon case, where it was acknowledged that one of the Republican electors held the position of "profit or trust" under the Government; or in the case of the double returns of Louisiana; or in the case of the Florida court decisions; or in the South Carolina case, he voted with the Republicans. After all the contests were heard the claims of not a single Democratic elector or among the disputed ones were recognized, and the claims of every Republican elector were. Every vote stood eight to seven, with the result that Hayes was declared elected by 185 electoral votes to 184 for Tilden.

Spartans Forced to Drill Inside

East Lansing, Oct. 17.—(AP)—With a cold autumn rain whipping across old College Field, Coach Harry Kipke was forced to herd his gridiron hopefuls into the spacious field house today as he continued secret preparations for College university.

In the shelter of the big building Kipke tried out his passers and rehearsed several new plays with his backfield, while Line Coaches Vandervoort and Wilson devoted their time to instructing State's forward wall in the best way to halt the terrific charge that the Maroon is expected to flash Saturday afternoon in the Spartan stadium.

To wind up the workout, Kipke sent a freshman eleven against his first team for some "shadow" scrimmage, with State first trying out its own plays, and then looking over the College formations. Although Kipke has not yet designated his starting lineup for the big homecoming game it is generally believed that it will be the same that took the field last Saturday, with the possible exception of Fogg at tackle instead of Joslin. This would mean that State would present the following battle front: Captain Hornberk and Anderson, end; Fogg and Christensen, tackles; Hitchings and Moeller, guards; Smead, center; Nordberg, quarterback; Grove and Kurlie, halfbacks, and Schau, fullback.

PICK INDEES TEAM TONIGHT

The Escanaba Independents, local semi-professional football team, will hold their final workout before the Bessemer game, at the City park this evening. The members of the squad who will make the trip to Bessemer will be picked at that time. Only men who attend the practice session will be eligible.

A scrimmage will be held at the City park at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The players are asked to wear football uniforms if possible.

both parties. There were a few on both sides who opposed it, but as there seemed to be no other way out of the difficulty, both Houses agreed to the measure creating the commission. Morrill said that if either House had thought the fifteenth member would not be non-partisan, the measure could not have passed. Senator Ingalls said afterward that the commission was a device favored by each party in the belief that it would cheat the other, and which resulted in defrauding both.

Briefly, the commission was to be made up of three Democrats from the House, two from the Senate, and two from the Supreme Court, with three Republicans from the House, two from the Senate, and two from the Supreme Court. The four Justices of the Supreme Court were to choose the fifteenth member. The Democrats thought it would be David Davis when they allowed the bill to pass, and the Republicans thought it would be Joseph Philo Bradley. And Bradley it was.

Hays Elected.
When the testimony was heard Justice Bradley voted on every question of fact and of law in entire harmony with the seven Republican members of the commission. Whether it was the Oregon case, where it was acknowledged that one of the Republican electors held the position of "profit or trust" under the Government; or in the case of the double returns of Louisiana; or in the case of the Florida court decisions; or in the South Carolina case, he voted with the Republicans. After all the contests were heard the claims of not a single Democratic elector or among the disputed ones were recognized, and the claims of every Republican elector were. Every vote stood eight to seven, with the result that Hayes was declared elected by 185 electoral votes to 184 for Tilden.

Manager of Detroit Team Turns in Resignation; Harris Successor?

Detroit, Oct. 17.—(AP)—George Moriarty, manager of the Detroit baseball club of the American League resigned tonight at the expiration of his two year contract with the team.

The resignation was contained in a letter to Frank Navin, president of the club, sent by Moriarty from his home in Woodstock, Ill. Beyond stating that the resignation had been accepted, Mr. Navin refused to comment. He declined to state if he had signed a new manager or had one under consideration. Although nothing official was given out, it was more or less of an open secret that Moriarty would sever his connections with the team at the conclusion of the past season. In the two seasons that he piloted the club, the Tigers finished in fourth and sixth place respectively.

Harris New Pilot?
While the calibre of the team's playing roster was blamed in some circles for the poor showing, the view was said to have been held by the owners that Moriarty was in a measure responsible, and it was decided to replace him.

Stanley Harris, former manager of the Washington Americans visited Detroit last week, ostensibly for a conference with Navin, and following the visit it was rumored that he would pilot the club this year. Queried tonight, President Navin said he had no statement to make at this time.

It was also reported that the club was negotiating with Done Bush, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, but this likewise could not be confirmed.

Moriarty's letter of resignation follows:

Good Luck
"I hereby tender my resignation as manager of the Detroit club. In severing my connection in this capacity, it is my sincere wish to convey my thanks to the fans and the press of Detroit for their support. I also wish to say that I hold Frank Navin in the highest esteem.

"Unfavorable circumstances played a part in the showing of the team this season. However, my contact with the game from the sandlots up, has taught me to accept the reverses of baseball with the same spirit that accompanies success. That is exactly the way I feel about it.

"Detroit is a great baseball city and its fans know the game thoroughly. Good luck to them."

During the air transportation of 19 1/2 tons of silver, valued at $350,000, from Paris to Croydon, England, in a recent month, all pilots were armed with revolvers.

Aerial Attack Likely to Play Big Part in Battle Here Saturday

The Escanaba high school eleven went through its third strenuous scrimmage of the week last evening to prepare itself for probably the hardest game on its schedule next Saturday when it meets the powerful Mountaineer squad.

Coach Bill Pucklewartz donned a headgear to lead the second string squad against the regulars, assuming the role of Ronzani, Iron Mountain backfield luminary, who is expected to be called on to do most of the ball carrying on Saturday. The regulars made a good showing in stopping the Hilltoppers when he carried the ball around ends and it appeared that Ronzani will not have such an easy time making the long gains he has by this type of attack in previous games.

Passing Game Likely
Considerable attention was paid to improving the aerial attack, which contributed a great deal to the Hilltoppers' victory over Marquette two weeks ago. Apparently, Saturday's game will develop into a thrilling exhibition of passing. Coach Thune's gridders nosed out Stambaugh in the closing moments of the game last Saturday by a pass from Ronzani to Colonofio and resorted to this type of attack pretty early during the last half. Reports from the Iron Mountain camp disclosed that Coach Thune is giving his charges an increased number of passing plays which will be used against the Puckelmens.

Hanson Joins Regulars
Hanson, who has been performing in a creditable fashion with Coach George Grab's Reserves, has been drafted by Coach Pucklewartz for substitute backfield work for the regulars. Swanson, a substitute end, is being tried out in the backfield this week.

Members of the Escanaba team, which will oppose Iron Mountain's peerless squad, headed by Crumney, last year's winner, were announced yesterday. They are: Gordon Baird, Jack Foster, Edward Fuqua, William Peters and Robert Snow. Fuqua is the lanky colored boy who made such a sensational showing in the grade school track and field events last spring.

Coach Grab is driving his Reserve eleven in stiff workouts daily to get them in shape for the fracas with Vulcan on Saturday. The clash will be a preliminary event to the Iron Mountain game, and will start at 1:15 o'clock. The main game will start at 2:30 o'clock, and the cross-country event will be run off between the halves.

Bilski, Vulcan's star, who was mainly responsible for the victory over Norway last Saturday, will be a real attraction in the Reserve game, it is anticipated. He is a spectacular gridiron artist and can always be counted upon to furnish several thrills. Coach Grab yesterday gave out the names of the Reserve griders who will start the game. They are: Center, Michael Curran; guards, Brandes and Karas; tackles, Thick and Lalaef; ends, Ed Murphy and George Call; quarterback, Leonard Ballarson; halfbacks, Villemure and Murray Burns; fullback, Claude Tobin.

The officials at this game will be: Referee, W. H. Norman, Ishpeming; Umpire, Dennis McGinn, Escanaba; head linesman, Claude Murdock, Gladstone. The usual officials, Christensen, Doyle and Norman, will handle the "big" battle.

Coach Yost Back on Field; May Change Lineup

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 17.—(AP)—With Coach Yost present on the field again after a flying trip to Nashville, Michigan football men took part in their first scrimmage in the rain since 1922 against the freshmen here tonight. The scrimmage was a double-header, as the first freshmen team to meet the varsity moved over after a rest to meet the junior varsity while another and stronger freshman team tried out Buckeye plays against the big team.

Coach Yost, while all smiles, had nothing to say for publication but indicated that some statement might come from a meeting of the coaching staff tomorrow a possibility of changes again appeared in the lineups presented against the freshmen teams. While the coaches appeared to have settled on a team on Monday they were making changes in the backs yesterday and today new men appeared in the line. Gragin, who played guard Saturday, starting in his first game for Michigan, gave a very good display of defensive work in the scrimmage.

M. S. C. Cage Players Report

East Lansing, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Fifth five seasoned veterans heading the squad, 22 men have reported to Coach Ben Van Aylstine for early season basketball practice at Michigan State college.

Material from the freshman team of last year will add a great deal to the veteran varsity squad. Among the sophomores who looked good as freshmen are: Haga, Clark, Van Antwerp, Bayerle, Baker, Prendergast, and Scott. The last two have not yet reported.

Dickeson, Schau and Russo of the 1927 team, are out for football while Dan Herder has not yet been seen in practice. Others who have reported for workouts are: Felt, Totten, Don Grove, Van Zylén, Aherns, Sheathelm, Leavitt, Thomasek, De Weerd, Van Zanden, Brown, Irgang, Bentley, Greer, Schaubel, Dowell and Breitenwisher, Roger Grove, Nordberg, and Smead will report after the football season.

Indian Hatchet is Uncovered in Excavation Here

The head of a stone hatchet, which was made by Indians probably more than a century ago, was found yesterday morning in the 600 block of South Fifteenth street, where A. M. Arntzen, local contractor, was making an excavation.

The relic was discovered by Arthur Carlson, one of the workmen employed in the excavation work, who about three months ago found a lump of solid copper while doing similar work at the site of the new Perkins school.

The hatchet head was buried at a depth of about one foot. It weighs four pounds and is similar to several others that have been uncovered in this county, which at one time was inhabited by the Redskins. The stone had been chipped and rubbed down to a keen edge, and around the top an indentation of about a half inch had been worked out to permit the fastening of a handle. The usual method employed by Indians was to cut a slot in a sapling tree and then permit it to grow about the hatchet head for several months.

The relic is on display at The Press office.

State College Radio Taken Off Station List

East Lansing, Oct. 17.—(AP)—No more will the familiar cry of "another basket for State" by James B. Hasselman, radio announcer for station WKAR be heard during basketball games. The college station has been taken off the air at night by action of the federal radio commission, it was announced today.

The basketball broadcast was one of the most popular services the station has rendered in the last three or four years. Thousands of fans all over the state listened in on every game. Michigan state is said to be the first college to broadcast a play-by-play account of a basketball game.

Ohio State Team Play Freshmen; Drill New Plays

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 17.—(AP)—An hour of scrimmage against the freshmen, followed by a long session on new plays, was handed out to the Ohio State football squad today, in preparation for the coming of Michigan Saturday. Coach Wilce kept the athletes on the field so late that the workout was finished under floodlights.

Hardy Kruskamp, hard blocking halfback, who has not played a minute this season because of an injured knee, was in the regular lineup and is expected to start against the Wolverines.

After working out against the varsity, the freshmen tackled the Reserves who meet the Michigan B team at Ann Arbor Saturday.

JUNIOR GRIDDERS BUSY

The St. Joseph eighth graders defeated the St. Anne's eighth grade eleven by an 18 to 12 score in a hard-fought game at the west city limits gridiron yesterday afternoon. Walker, Buhney and Sharkey scored the touchdowns for St. Joseph, while Beaumier and Clairmont carried the ball across the goal line for St. Anne's.

The Red Eagles and the Junior Midgets played an 8 to 8 tie at Ludington park last evening, each team scoring on a touchdown and safety apiece.

E. H. S. Class of '25 Will Hold Reunion at Game Saturday

The Escanaba high school class of 1925 will hold a football reunion at the Iron Mountain game Saturday afternoon. Members of the class will meet, at a place to be designated later, and attend the game in a body, it was announced yesterday. It is expected that a large number will participate in the event.

LAY PLANS TO GET AIR MAIL

C-C Committee to Determine Available Business in County

Preliminary steps for the securing of air mail and commercial transportation for Escanaba and surrounding territory were outlined at the first meeting yesterday afternoon of the newly organized Delta County Aviation Development committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the committee, who were recently appointed by William H. Needham, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, are: E. J. French, chairman, W. R. Smith, George N. Harder, George E. Harvey, H. J. Norton, John M. Olson, Gladstone, James T. Jones, Gladstone, and A. A. Lundgaard, Cornell.

The first move will be to conduct a survey to determine how much air mail business is available in Escanaba, Gladstone and other parts of the county. Industries and merchants will be interviewed and asked for estimates of the amount of mail they would send and receive by air mail service.

This project is being carried out by the other 14 counties in the upper peninsula as a result of the air congress recently held at Menominee. When statistics on the possible amount of air mail business in the upper peninsula is completed, these will be forwarded to the U. S. post department with a petition that U. P. air mail lines be established, according to the general plan.

Eventually, it is planned to interest commercial aviation companies to establish air lines for the transport of passengers and express to and from the upper peninsula and lower Michigan, Chicago and Milwaukee.

Members of the special chamber of commerce committee at its initial conference yesterday were extremely optimistic over the part Escanaba will play in the development of commercial aviation in the upper peninsula. Considering that this city was a pioneer in the establishment of a landing field and that it occupies a strategic position on the map, the committee members were united in the opinion that Escanaba would be the hub of a network of airlines connecting the peninsula with the outside world.

Baby Contest to Be Staged Again

The Parent Teacher association of the Washington school will conduct its eleventh annual baby contest November 15. The association and the people of the school's district take a very keen interest in the annual affair. The funds raised each year are used to defray the many worthy demands on the organization's treasury.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the association, headed by Miss Elizabeth Lelper, has completed the plans for the contest.

All babies between the ages of one day to three years in any part of the city are eligible. Entries can be made from October 18 to November 15. Three awards will be given. First prize is a silver loving cup; second, a $2.50 gold piece and third, a silver spoon. Entries can be made or any information secured by calling any of the following: Miss Elizabeth Lelper, Annex building; Marion Brown, Washington school; Mrs. Arthur L'Heureux, 1348-J; or Mrs. Ed Nelson, 356-J.

In conjunction with the baby contest this year, the association will give an enlarged photograph to each pre-school child eligible for the Washington kindergarten who presents on the last day of the contest a certificate from a dentist stating that their teeth are in good condition.

Arctic Vegetables Placed on Display in Press Window

CONTRARY to the belief of many, that the vicinity of the Arctic Circle is a barren waste, that section produces garden vegetables of fine quality. This fact is proven in a shipment received this week by Mrs. Mary Carroll from her son, Ralph R. Carroll, who is engaged as construction superintendent for the Alaska Highway Commission at Circle, Alaska. The shipment was made from the garden of Mrs. P. A. Read, of Chatanika, Alaska, and includes cabbage, potatoes, rutabagas and a species of canned Alaskan blueberries. A display of the Alaskan vegetables is now being made in the window of the Daily Press office.

The section from which the shipment was made, lies at the very edge of the Arctic Circle, where approximately eight months of winter prevail, but the fact that the section enjoys 24 hours of sunlight daily during the brief summer season makes possible the growing to maturity of many vegetables.

Rodger Chenoweth Gets Good Grades at Toronto Univ.

Rodger Chenoweth, son of Dr. Nancy Rodgers Chenoweth, received three A's and one B for the work done at the last semester at the University of Toronto, according to additional reports of scholastic standings received by Principal John A. Lemmer yesterday. He is a graduate of the Escanaba high school.

On the face of returns received from the various colleges, Escanaba high school graduates are making exceptional showings, reflecting much credit to the local institution where they received their early training. Out of an enrollment of 10,000 or more at the University of Michigan last semester, only 35 received all A grades, but numbered among those 35 ranking students, three were from Escanaba. They are: Lawrence Hartwig, Edward Curran and Wallace Olson. In addition to this, Bertil Anderson was awarded all A's for his work at the University of Iowa; Ruth Sandhom had a perfect standing at the Northern State Teachers college, Marquette, and Elizabeth Bement received four A's and a B plus at Oberlin college.

F. R. A. Picks New Officers

The Fraternal Reserve association of Escanaba held their annual election of officers Monday night at the North Star hall. L. M. Baird, special representative from Oshkosh, was present and gave an interesting address to the members. His talk was principally on the plans for an old people's home which the society wishes to erect in the near future.

The business session was followed by card playing and refreshments.

Following are the new officers: President—Louis Larson. Vice President—Edna Ambeau. Past President—Victor Nelson. Treasurer—Mary DeMars. Secretary—Rose Nelson. Sergeant—Joseph Ambeau. Assistant Sergeant—Eva Parent. Advisor—Edward Berry. Judges—Emma LaCasse, three years; Joseph LeMire, two years; Mrs. Anton Embs, one year. Messenger—Joseph Klingner. Doorkeeper—Mrs. Champion. Charity—Willie Larson. Fraternity—Emma LaCasse. Unity—Teckla Pinocek.
